Candidate requirements

Skills/Qualifications

Applicants must hold a PhD.

Specific requirements

We welcome applications from individuals working in all areas of cognitive science spanning linguistics, psychology, neuroscience, and related fields such as education. The BASLA research group seeks applicants willing to contribute in a collaborative and innovative fashion to the development of a recent research project awarded by the Spanish

Ministry of Science and Innovation (LAUA Project Reference Number: PID2021122127NB-I00 funded by MCIN/AEI/10.13039/501100011033 and by “ERDF a way of making Europe”) whose mission is to explore language attrition and ultimate attainment by a variety of populations bilingual/multilingual in a combination of Germanic and Romance languages in close collaboration with Prof. Francesco Romano at Hamstad University (Sweden). Applications should include a cover letter, a CV, a research statement (no more than 2 pages), a 1 page teaching statement and contact information for 3 references. Research statements should specify how the applicant’s research will integrate with and benefit from ongoing cognitive science research conducted at the aforementioned funded research project. For example, the research statements could tie in with the interests of faculty members of the BASLA research group. Please combine all application materials (in the order above) into one PDF to be submitted through the UIB job application portal.

Language requirements

English and Spanish. Knowledge of other Germanic and Romance languages will be a plus.

Experience required: 1-4 years

Prior experience

Desirable to have had a similar previous postdoctoral position.
